SOUTHERN LANDS.

The lands of the South have, for the present, almost entirely lost their value. The land-owners, for the most part, heavily in debt, cannot make their realty available for the payment of their debts. Suits swarm in the courts, and vast quantities of fertile lands must change owners, at nominal prices. Adventurers, whose object in pushing onward the destructive measures of Jacobinism has been to distress the land-owners and depreciate the value of the lands, so that they might be enabled to buy them up at a dollar or less per acre, find their infernal labours crowned with success; and are beginning to buy for cents broad lands that will in a few years be worth to them dollars. There is nothing of public concern in this country, no legislation, no Governmental action, into which private greed does not enter. Everything is intended to give profitable jobs, and occasion for heartless speculations. Never in the world was there a Government so corrupt, so prostituted to subserve private interests. It is impossible for a Government to last long, that is administered with so utter a lack of patriotism and principle.

The conspiracy against the people of the South, by those who hold and wield the powers of government, is a complete success; and the ruin of the Southern planters an accomplished fact. When a large class of men are in such straits, those who undertake to advise them are very likely to advise that which is impracticable. We always hesitate so give advice to the planters of the country, in regard to their industrial policy; because it is to be presumed that they, with all their dearest interests at stake, have reflected much more maturely on the whole subject than we have; as they certainly have, what we have not, a practical knowledge of the subject.

The N. O. Crescent says that the political power of the country is always, at last, with the land-owners; and advises the people of the South to cling to their lands. But nine land-owners of every ten would reply that it is not within their power to retain their lands, because they cannot prevent their sale under execution or by foreclosure, for payment of debts.

The Bulletin urges that it is a fatal error to contract with negroes for labour by the year, since the planter takes upon himself all the chances of loss by failure of the crops, or low prices. Probably the first planter to whom this was mentioned would agree that the system is a ruinous one, if it could be avoided; but he would say, 'how am I to have labour otherwise? I have no means to pay for it by the month. I can only pay for it when I shall have raised and sold the crop.'

Other journals advise all who have not work to do in the cities, to resort to the country, and engage incontinently in the cultivation of the soil: but a married man who hardly has bread for his children for the morrow is only mocked at, when told that he ought to go to the country. He has no means to get there, and none with which to purchase what is necessary to enable him to commence farming.

There is no doubt that the cultivation of cotton on the old plan ought to be abandoned. The planter is little less than insane, who now incurs a heavy debt for advances to enable him to engage in the hazardous game of cotton planting. It would be better for him to risk it betting against faro.

And every one who looks around a city like New Orleans or Memphis, and sees what an immense per centage of the men, and especially of the young men of the city, produces nothing whatever that adds to the common stock of wealth, must know that there are thousands upon thousands of them who not only ought to be cultivating the soil, adding to the productions and increasing the wealth of the country; but who would be far more contented, of far greater worth in every point of view, and far more respectable, than while existing in the semi-genteel pauperism of ill-paid clerkships, in brieless law offices, or, in one way or the other, and in different degrees of doubtful respectability, upon the town.

Why would it not pay capitalists as well to advance means to associations of men of the cities, willing to accept the life of a farmer in the country, to assist them in stocking their farms and beginning a new life, as it does to invest their moneys in banking or in the mostly folly of building palatial steamers, to be run at a loss?

Say what you will as to the causes of our present decay and distress, and invent what plans you will to restore prosperity to Memphis; but one of the chief causes of our distress is that too many men in the South, and especially in its towns and cities, consume and do not produce, seeking to live without doing any sort of work that is fit for a man to do. The statistics of these non-producers who live by the different devices of modern civilization, in Memphis alone, would astonish those who have not reflected on the subject. This evil was nothing, when the country had mines of wealth in its lands, and the labour of the planter and the negro produced in abundance that with which these non-producers were fed and pampered. But now the evil has become enormous and intolerable, and the lands are actually a burden, and no abundance or surplus is produced by any body, with which to feed the drones and painted butterflies, or those who do the work of women, keep the thousands of retail shops, and dispense liquors and cigars by the small, in the many hundred cabarets of the city.

If we do not need more producers and less consumers, how does it happen that almost everything that is seen displayed for sale in the provision-stores of Memphis comes from the Northern States? Must we always go to the North for food? What reason is there for expecting our banks to do any business and continue solvent, in a city so fed, sitting on the verge of one State, and looking west and south into two others all as fertile as the Delta of the Nile, and which yet cannot supply their single large city with food? Why should we expect prosperity when we employ the mill-owners of New England to manufacture into fabrics the cotton that comes to Memphis as its market, and ought to be manufactured here? Even our fuel comes from Pennsylvania; and it costs us more per ton than Liverpool cannel-coal would, delivered upon our wharf.

Reluctance to work with the hands, and the idea that manual labour, the toil of the farmer and artisan, is not respectable, are the curse of the United States. There are, in all the States, at least a million of able-bodied white men, worthless in the various pursuits they are following for the purpose of avoiding work, who ought to be engaged in cultivating the soil, doing the work that once was honourable.

The New York Journal of Commerce thus briefly states the nature of the general distress of the country, and suggests the remedy for it:

The truth now enforced by these scenes of wretchedness is, that in nearly all of our large cities are congregated a mass of able-bodied men wholly disproportioned to the ordinary demands of industry. In prosperous days (especially under the stimulus caused by a profuse expenditure of newly-made greenbacks for the prosecution of war), there was work enough for all. But when the situation is wholly reversed; when disbursement ends and retrenchment begins; when the people are called upon to aid in paying off old debts instead of making new ones; then come the times that try men's souls.

Our laboring classes must not fail to heed the lesson now taught by bitter experience, and see the necessity of dispersing through the country and devoting themselves to agricultural pursuits without delay. The sooner this conclusion is reached the better for all concerned. The culture of farm products is always in order, and the encouragement to such labor was never greater than now, when famine stalks through many of the old countries of Europe and prices in the United States are maintained at such exorbitant rates.

Our readers of the non-producing class may find something profitable to be pondered on, in the following communication:

NOTHING TO DO.

To the Editor of the New Orleans Times:

The times are of the hardest. The cities North and South resound with the cry of nothing to do! Clerks and mechanics are out of employ by thousands, and if the men are doing nothing, what becomes of the women and children.

But in a country like this, and especially in the South, with its inexhaustible fertility and boundless capabilities, there cannot in reality be any lack of remunerative employment. The land! the land! Agricultural production is the basis of national prosperity. First the prime necessities, then the luxuries; first food and simple clothing, then rich fare and purple and fine linen. Such is the law of nature, of common sense.

Young men go to the land. For the next six months business and commerce must be at a stand still. There is nothing to keep the machine moving. All those who stay in cities in these times are consumers, not producers, at best only distributors. If there be no buyers—nothing to buy with—who wants clerks, agents, porters? No! Go to the land! A comparatively unskilled laborer can there by industry, and the commonest kind of common sense, make at least bread. Other things being equal, the habits of order and steady industry acquired in commercial pursuits will help out the want of physical aptitude and mere animal strength. The late war—the courage and endurance there displayed—set at rest all questions of capacity for actively, energetically employed, while out in the open air and constant motion secure an average state of health, far better than that of sedentary or confined employment in city stores and offices.

But how are you to live while working a farm and waiting for the crops? How are you to live anyway, while loafing around the towns and waiting for something to turn up? It will cost no more to live in the country than in the town, not so much by a considerable figure. Hard tack and pork could be eaten with a relish on a march, while hot biscuits and venison steaks only provoke dyspepsia, when sitting still. It is not so long either to wait for some result from land. All crops don't take as long to realize as corn, sugar and cotton. There is plenty to do on land—no end of occupation. Green crops and vegetables are the most immediately remunerative. Wood felling and splitting furnish no bad week's pay for the hardy worker. Stock and pork raising, although the returns be distant, are not hard work, while milk, butter and poultry are not items to be despised, and bring speedy results.

But how get land? and how find tools and seed and food? It certainly would be a grand mistake for every man to try 1000 acre plantations with two or three hundred darkies. But mark what is doing in North and South Carolina, in North Alabama and Georgia. Lots of men in those countries have put in, two or three together, and hiring land, or where they can, buying it, are at work themselves on their own hook, and hiring one or two colored laborers, are making the thing pay. Some farmers in this way did well last season, did best in fact, and more are going into it this year. The great plantation system of the old time is dead, but in its stead has arisen a system of small farms and personal labor in which there is comparatively no risk of your hands deserting you just at the moment you most want them. A system of mixed husbandry is thus also favored, the only really thriving plan of agricultural operations. Cotton, or sugar, or rice, is not the only thing that can be grown in this grand Southern country, the richest, most bountifully endowed and most favorably situated area of the same size on the face of the earth.

A solitary illustration will prove the value of energy and determination. Last spring, four young fellows started with very small means on about two hundred acres, near Atlanta. The land had been worked and was considered poor. They plowed deep, and broke up the ground thoroughly. By diligence and frequent cultivating, they brought the land into such fine tilth, that the first year paid all expenses, and the times being favorable to buyers, they began this season on twelve hundred acres. Four or five years of such continuous prudence and good sense will put these pioneers beyond the chances of life.

Go and do likewise. W. H.

THE NEW ORLEANS, MOBILE AND CHATTANOOGA RAILROAD.

The building of this important road is to be immediately commenced in good earnest. The Mobile Evening Tribune of the 20th inst., says:

The officers of the New Orleans, Mobile and Chattanooga Railroad Company, now engaged in laying off by surveys the grounds for workshops, depots, car shops, etc., in the neighborhood of Broad street and Spring Hill Road, condemned yesterday one hundred and forty-nine thousand dollars worth of heretofore comparatively useless property for the uses and purposes of the Company, and will in a few days be ready to pay over to different parties owning the property the above sum, which will soon find its way into general circulation.

Within a short time the small wooden tenements occupying the Company's grounds will begin to be removed, and superb brick and iron structures rise up in their stead. Then employment will voluntarily come to the doors of hundreds of our artisans, mechanics and laborers, and we confidently hope for better days and better things.

This Company, as predicted, promises to prove a God-send to our people just at this time, and we may reasonably hope that almost as much money will be put in circulation from the enterprise as we have realized from inaugurating the entire cotton crop of the past season.

With cotton at twenty-three cents, and the Railroad Company promising us so much, things are already brightening up, and we congratulate our people on the dawn of the better days a coming.

—In a country where the natural desire of the people is to reach the highest point in art, it is very difficult for success to be obtained without most arduous labor. Public opinion is extremely exacting and not always just; but often unjust and cruel criticism has produced the most beneficial results; the greatest improvements have been made under continued discouragements, and in many successful efforts defeat seemed certain to all those concerned. In no one branch of art has there been more trials and failures, and in no single instrument is there so many different parts to perfect in order to make the whole a success, as the pianoforte; this is always attended with great expense, requiring large capital and unremitting perseverance. Grovesteen & Co., 499 Broadway, N. Y., commenced manufacturing pianos thirty-six years ago, and are one of the oldest houses in the country. They aim to make the best instrument, and sell it at the smallest possible price. These pianos cannot be excelled. Their singing quality is pure, full, and sympathetic, and is retained through the most lengthy passages. For power they are unparalleled, and are celebrated for their great brilliancy, exquisite touch, and elegance of style and finish.

ROCKBRIDGE ALUM SPRINGS, VA., February 4, 1868.

General Albert Pike:

My Dear Sir: The celebrity of these waters induced me to avail myself of their use, as a remedy for a malady which has afflicted me for many months. I arrived here in safety a few days ago, and feel that I shall be much benefitted. My route of travel was from Memphis and Charleston railroad to Chattanooga; thence via Bristol to Lynchburg, and Staunton to Goshen Depot on Virginia Central; and my object in addressing you this note is to express, through your valuable paper, my appreciation of the gentlemanly conduct and deportment of the managing agents of this line. Throughout, being an invalid, their kind attention and a watchful care for my comfort and safety could not well escape my observation, as I was passed from the charge of one conductor to the other, and I feel it a duty, as well as profound pleasure, to return my thanks to these gentlemen, in charge, as well as the chief authorities of the route, for its efficient management, nothing being omitted calculated to conduce to the safety and comfort of passengers. Hoping, ere long, to have the pleasure of returning, with improved health, I remain, very truly,

PATENT MEDICINES.

MRS. JACKSON'S
Queen Bess Complexion Wash.

THE following certificates, selected from hundreds in the possession of the proprietress, are confidently submitted to the public:

MRS. WOLCOTT'S CERTIFICATE.

QUINCY, Ill., November 5, 1866.

MRS. JACKSON, Dear Madam—It is with pleasure that I certify to you, that soon one of your circulars, which contained certificates and indorsements from the best physicians and the highest official authorities of the United States, certifying that your oils for the complexion and teeth were purely the oils, extracts and essences of flowers, and they warrant it when used according to directions to cure the worst and most difficult cases of nursing, sore mouth, canker of the stomach, bowels and dyspepsia. For scrofulous disorders, when used both internally and externally, it has no equal. Dear Madam, seeing this, and my little daughter, aged fifteen months, having the whooping cough for several months, accompanied with what the doctors call white canker, her mouth and throat being terribly ulcerated, and I having tried everything for its relief I could procure, all to no purpose, I bought one bottle of your oil for the complexion, called "Queen Bess," and according to the directions, did not use quite one bottle, and I am most happy to state to you that it has cured my child. She is now as well and healthy as ever she was in her life. I give you this, my certificate, hoping you will publish it, that thousands of others who may be afflicted with any of the above affections may at once get a bottle of your "Queen Bess," for I feel sure they will find immediate relief.

Yours respectfully,
MRS. GEO. WOLCOTT,
Jersey street, bet. Sixth and Seventh.

MRS. WM. R. COLLINS' CERTIFICATE.

HANNIBAL, Mo., August 22, 1866.

MRS. JACKSON, Dear Madam—I am most happy to inform you that after having suffered more than three years with what some physicians call nursing sore mouth, or canker of the mouth and throat, I tried various remedies, but found nothing to do me any good until I heard of your oils for the complexion and teeth, called "Queen Bess." After using one bottle, west according to directions, and am truly thankful I say I have found a permanent cure. Hoping you will publish this, that other poor sufferers may be benefitted by it, I remain,

Yours respectfully,
MRS. WM. R. COLLINS.

AGENTS WANTED—Male or Female, in every town and county in the United States, to introduce the celebrated preparation. Agents are now making from $150 to $250 per month. Office of exp. ness. CAPITAL PRIZE VALUED AT $20,000 00

Which amount has recently been offered for the Springs and Grounds immediately surrounding.

PRIZE No. 1.

The celebrated Raleigh Mineral Springs, situated on the confines of Raleigh, late county Seat of Shelby county, Tenn., nine miles northeast of Memphis, and two miles west of Station, on the Memphis and Louisville Railroad. These Springs are six and number, of various mineral and medicinal properties, and are visited every Summer by thousands of seekers of health and pleasure, from all quarters of the country. A few of these Springs, situated on the village of Raleigh, in a beautiful Valley, and also within a few hundred feet of Wolf river, which winds around the base of the eminence on which the village of Raleigh is situated, and empties into the "Father of Waters" at Memphis. Numerous remarkable cures of various diseases have been experienced by sufferers at this healthy-inspiring retreat, and the present proprietor, Col. R. M. Coleman, can produce hundreds of proofs of cures in cases which had been entirely given over by medical skill. The ground surrounding the Springs, and in fact the entire village of Raleigh, rises to an eminence of pure air, and is as remarkable for its healthfulness as beauty of location. The Springs are to close order, never failing, and are designated as follows:

MAGNOLIA SPRING,
BOX SPRING,
MAGNOLIA SPRING,

The elegant country residence house and lot residence of Col. J. M. Coleman is within a few yards of the Springs. The house is in first class order, contains 10 rooms and is beautifully embowered in shrubbery. The lot is well fenced and ornamented with fine shade and fruit trees, and affords all necessary outhouses, cisterns, etc. It is midway between the village and Spring Valley, on the main promenade. Value $5,000.

PRIZE No. 3.

One thousand dollars in cash.

PRIZE No. 4 TO 25.

Twenty-five cottage lots valued at $200 each. These lots are a portion of the village of Raleigh, delightfully situated, all fronting on thoroughfares and will be drawn with the numbers standing that the winners shall have free access at all times to the Springs and belongings.

Details of the Drawing.

Six thousand and seven hundred tickets, representing the certificates issued, will be placed in one wheel, and the same number of blanks, including twenty-five merchant with the names of the premiums, will be placed in another. From these wheels tickets will be drawn at the same time, and the number drawn will take the premium drawn simultaneously.

All moneys received upon the sale of these shares will be placed in the German National Bank of Memphis, and will remain there to the credit of the Association until the drawing takes place.

PRINCIPLES GOVERNING THE CONDUCT OF THE APPEAL.

A GOVERNMENT of white men for white men; and no political miscegenation.

LOYALTY to the Union of the STATES: FIDELITY to the Constitution in its true extent and meaning: Obedience to and maintenance of all law, State and National, constitutionally enacted.

RESISTANCE to Tyranny, Usurpation and Oppression, of one man or many; and to all encroachments upon the rights of freemen or of States, or upon the just and Constitutional prerogatives of any Department of the State or National Governments.

No ESTABLISHMENTS of Military despotisms, no enthroning of martial law, no suspension of the writ of Habeas Corpus, no slaying of citizens by Military Commission, no interference with the Courts, no lettres de cachet, in time of peace.

STRICT SUBORDINATION of the Military to the Civil Power.

NO STANDING ARMIES of States in time of peace.

RESTORATION of disfranchised citizens to all rights and privileges of which they have been disseized; no prosecutions or disqualifications for political opinions; for the PAST, oblivion of offences; for the PRESENT and FUTURE, UNION, PEACE, LAW and ORDER.

PERPETUAL ASSURANCE to all freemen of the African race, of all the CIVIL rights of freemen.

NO REPUDIATION, by State or Nation, of any honest and lawful debt.

NO REVIVAL of old party differences; but a Union of all Conservative men, of all former Parties, who revere the Constitution, to restore the old land-marks of the Government.

NO LEGISLATION to plunder one portion of the country for the profit of another portion.

WHATEVER is JUST; whatever is RIGHT; whatever is of GOOD REPUTE, and worthy of the descendants of English freemen

ENGLISH LIBERTY.

We have the right to say of all that old English law which is composed of the great principles of English, Saxon and human liberty, what DANIEL WEBSTER said of the Law of Nations: "If, for the decision of any question, the proper rule is to be found in this law of English liberty, it adheres to the subject, it follows the subject through, no matter into what place, high or low. You cannot escape this law, in a case where it is applicable. The air of every judicature is full of it. It pervades the Courts of law of the highest character, and the Court of Piepoudre; ay, even the Constable's Court. It is part of the universal law. It may share the glorious eulogy pronounced by HOOKER upon Law itself, that there is nothing so high as to be beyond the reach of its power; nothing so low as to be beneath its care."

It is the Constitution of the United States that breathed into Congress the breath of life. The Universe could as well exist without GOD, and independent of Him, as Congress exercise powers "outside" and independent of the Constitution. If, when it undertakes to exercise a power, it cannot find in the Constitution a grant to itself of that power, it has no right to exercise it, and no one is under any obligation to obey its law. Its charter is the limit of its powers. The great principles of English liberty are the immovable basis of the laws and the Constitutions also, of the Republic, and Congress cannot lawfully govern, except in obedience to those laws.

The reconstruction acts are not laws. The resolutions passed by acclamation by the Stygian Conclave of Pandemonium, never had the force of law for the universe. "A law," Mr. WEBSTER said, in the case of OGDEN and SAUNDERS, "in its general acceptance, is a rule prescribed for future conduct, not a legislative interference with existing rights. The framers of the Constitution would hardly have given the appellation of LAW to violent invasions of individual right or individual property, by legislative power." The Congress of the United States has no law-making power whatever, except what is given it by the Constitution. When it assumes any other, its law has precisely the same sanctity as the demand of ransom for a prisoner, made by a banditti of the Appennines.

SOUND DEMOCRATIC DOCTRINE.

The following Resolutions were unanimously adopted at a Mass Meeting of Democrats, recently held in Jersey City. It is refreshing to hear again the accents of Constitutional truth, when political heresies and the infamous dogmas of Jacobinism swarm and hiss around us, thick as the frogs that overran Egypt, when the Lord hardened PHARAOH'S heart, as the Arch-Enemy has to-day hardened those of the Jacobin persecutors of a conquered people:

Resolved, That when the rebellious end, there was no room for the interference of Congress on the subject by any legislation whatever; that the only legitimate functions of government were to punish or pardon those who had been guilty; that the power of punishment was vested in the judiciary and the power of pardon and the homing of the guarantees which were prope, to be required of the guilty as the conditions upon which they should be pardoned, were vested in the President; that Congress could pass no laws to punish the guilty, or assuming their guilt, to provide for their exemption from punishment on any conditions whatever, being prohibited from the one by express constitutional provision, and from the other because in its nature it is not a legislative power, but an executive power expressly lodged with the President by the terms of the Constitution.

Resolved, That all pretended acts of legislation by Congress under the title of "acts to provide for the more efficient government of the rebel States," called reconstruction acts, are unconstitutional and void; and nothing but their immediate repeal or a declaration of their nullity by the chosen guardians of the Constitution can restore peace to our distracted country; that under a legitimate exercise of the functions of government by a natural accord in all its departments we should now, at the end of three years of peace, be far on our way to the extinguishment of the national debt and have begun a new career of prosperity, and given a new example to the world of the ability of our system of self-government to secure public happiness and perpetuate union and liberty.

Resolved, That the recent measure passed by the House of Representatives in connection with the former so-called reconstruction acts grants to the General of the army in terms, and authorizes him, by the assistance of the army of the United States, to execute the "power to protect all persons in their rights of person and property, to suppress insurrection, disorder and violence, and to punish all disturbers of the public peace and criminals, to organize military tribunals for the trial of offenders, and to subject in all respects the State Government to the General of the army;" and directs "that the duties of all civil officers may be detailed to an officer or soldier of the army—that the General of the army shall not be bound in his action by any opinion of any civil officer of the United States;" and provides "that the General of the army shall not be removed or ordered to any place by the President without his own consent;" that the said General of the army has officially promulgated that "these laws make him his own interpreter of his own power or duty under them, as he has the responsibility;" and these acts also provide that it shall be unlawful for the President to order any part of the army or navy of the United States to obstruct the execution of the said acts: that these grants to the General of the army are, in their nature, no exercise of any legislative power whatever, but a transfer to him of unlimited executive power, unlimited judicial power, and under the construction promulgated by him operate a grant of any legislative or other power, absolute and unqualified, that he, as his own interpreter of his own power, chooses to determine is contained in them.

Resolved, That it is a fundamental maxim of all free governments that such absolute power cannot be conferred on one man in time of peace even by the people in their sovereign capacity. The grant is void, as inconsistent with the existence of civil society. In the language of Otis, "this supreme absolute power is originally and ultimately in the people and they never did nor can they make a renunciation of this divine right." "It is evidently contrary to the first principles of reason that supreme unlimited power should be in the hands of one man. It is the greatest idolatry begotten by flattery on the body of pride that could indtice one to think that a single mortal should be able to hold so great a power if ever so well inclined."

Resolved, That the execution of these laws will be an exercise not only of all governmental powers but of all other and different powers—the powers of a despot—with which no free people have ever been so weak or wicked as to invest any man in time of peace; and can have no place at any time among an intelligent and free people; that the attempted transfer of such despotic powers is treasonable, and when accepted and acted upon by the grantee is a making of war upon all citizens of the United States in all the States—no matter in what part of the nation's territory the hostile force may be marshalled.

It is undoubtedly true that no people in the world ever with so little reason and excuse, proposed to invest one man with despotic power over so immense a country, and to give him the means, if he has the ambition, to grasp the reins of Empire. No powerful enemy threatens the Republic with destruction; no hostile armies beleaguer it. There has been no battle of Cannæ; the Gauls are are not at the gates of Rome. The people are not alarmed; the safety of the Republic does not demand a Dictator. The South is peaceful and submissive, even tamely submissive to oppression and insult. The mottled Conventions engaged in the work of depravation play the fool undisturbed, to their heart's content; the district despots find nowhere any opposition to their imperial wills, and play what fantastic tricks they please. The only necessity for the Dictatorship is, that one or two of these Commanders seem to have a little reason, a little respect for the civil laws and the Courts, and permit men accused of offences to be lawfully tried, instead of murdering or otherwise punishing them by means of Military Commissions.

TENNESSEE.

—Ex-Gov. Neill S. Brown fell in going up the steps at his residence, in Edgefield, a few days since, and broke his collar-bone.

—Mrs. Knauss, at her benefit on Friday evening, was presented by the ladies of Nashville with a set of jewelry worth $100.

—The death of Mrs. Ann McCann, a most estimable old lady, is announced at Nashville.

GEORGIA.

—Bard, of the Atlanta New Era, makes the following appeal to the negro Convention of Georgia: "Every member of the Constitutional Convention ought to become an agent for the Era, and aid in increasing its circulation where there are no reconstruction papers. The people must have light." "Lucus a non lucendo," should be his motto.

—Admiral Semmes was to lecture at Atlanta on the 21st inst.

—The Athens Watchman of the 19th tells of a big porcine or pig, raised in that meridian: "Capt. George W. Harmon, of Elbert county, recently slaughtered a shoat eighteen months old, which weighed 480 pounds. The lard taken from this hog measured ten gallons and a half."

—The Montgomery Advertiser, noticing the expulsion of Bradley by the Georgia Convention, calls their attention to one George Chatters, negro, representing Stewart county, who, it says, was pardoned out of the Alabama Penitentiary by Gov. Patton, in May last, for horse stealing.

MISSISSIPPI.

The Panola Star of the 22d inst., has the following paragraph relative to "farming prospects": "The fine weather of the past week has given our planters an opportunity to do something towards preparing for the coming crop. From the best information we can obtain, we think more small grain will be harvested this year in Panola county than ever before, while the number of acres planted in corn will be larger than last year. More attention has been given to cotton than we should think the experience of the past two years would justify, and the late advance in the price of that staple will have a tendency to promote its more extensive planting. The supply of labor has given out, and all the freedmen who will contract have found homes."

—Some enterprising citizens of Holly Springs have gone to work in earnest, to establish an extensive flouring mill, a brewery, a tannery and a distillery. The buildings are being rapidly pushed to completion.

—A shocking affair occurred at Hickory Station, in Newton county, a few days ago. A Mr. Johnson and B. F. Horn became intoxicated, and were together in their drunken hilarity. Mrs. Johnson, the wife of Mr. Johnson, attempted to get her husband to return home with her, when some words ensued between her and Horn, whereupon Horn beat her so severely with a stick that she died the next day. Horn escaped.

—Yazoo City has been visited by a disastrous conflagration, destroying most of the business portion of the place. The Mayor's office, postoffice, calaboose and market-houses are some of the buildings destroyed, the whole number of houses burned being sixteen. The fire was confined to the business portion of Main and Jefferson streets.

The Lecture Last Night.

The Masonic fraternity of our city assembled last evening, at an early hour, to hear a lecture at Temperance Hall from their illustrious brother, Albert Pike. Unfortunately the notice of the lecture was given only through the papers of the morning, and though the attendance was large, numbers were absent who otherwise would have been present. This is much to be regretted, for a more interesting and instructive picture to the uninitiated of the craft could not well be imagined; indeed we have heard old Masons characterize the plain, unpretending, yet eloquent lecture, of Mr. Pike as the only one they had ever heard in which common sense ruled supreme from beginning to end.

We cannot attempt an analysis of the remarks of the distinguished lecturer, but were strongly impressed with the remarks of Mr. Pike, urging Masons to ignore claims resting on no solid foundation but planting themselves on the undoubted merits of their sublime art so to live and so to act that the lessons they were taught in the Lodge-room should inure to their own honor and the benefit of their fellow-men. Mr. Pike spoke of the immense power the Masons of this country could exert for good, and charged them with being derelict in their duty, inasmuch as they did not accomplish much more than they have heretofore done for the benefit of their country and the community in which they live.

We feel certain that we saw many a Mason's eye brighten, as the speaker proceeded, and ere he ended, many a one had formed a firm resolve that for the future he would bear his Masonic obligations more in mind.

MISSISSIPPI.

Apprenticeship for Negroes.

Attempt to Rob a Doorkeeper

Special Dispatch to Memphis Appeal.]

JACKSON, MISS., February 24.—Section twenty-two of the bill of rights was adopted to-day. It provides that no slavery shall exist in the State. The Legislature shall provide a uniform system of apprenticeship for unprotected minors.

A resolution was adopted providing for afternoon and night sessions.

The colored doorkeeper made complaint against one Merriman, a member of the Convention, stating that Merriman, with a party of citizens and men dressed in United States uniform, came to the hall at night and laid violent hands on the doorkeeper and another colored gentleman and attempted to rob them. A committee of five was appointed to investigate the affair.

Merriman is the individual who created so much excitement at Meridian some months ago by giving information of an intended negro insurrection.

FROM WASHINGTON.

WASHINGTON, February 24.—The Impeachment Resolution passed the House this evening by a vote of 126 to 47.

[The Eastern lines beyond Louisville are burdened with debates. Nothing else received up to 11 p.m.—REP.]

FROM NEW ORLEANS.

NEW ORLEANS, February 24.—Gen. Hancock has published a card, stating that the statement in the editorial columns of the New York Sun of the 17th inst., giving extracts purporting to come from him, "is a malicious misrepresentation, totally without foundation," and that he "never wrote such a letter as the one referred to, or used such expressions."

A resolution was offered in the Convention to-day, to appoint a committee of seven, to be empowered to enforce the collection of the tax levied by the Convention, and to call the Convention together if it is deemed necessary. It lies over.

Blackburn offered a preamble and resolution, which is a protest against Gen. Hancock's financial order of Saturday, and that copies of the same be forwarded to the Senate, the House of Representatives and Grant.

GENERAL NEWS.

—Gov. Patton appeals to the people of Alabama for prompt payment of the uncollected taxes of the current fiscal year, one-third of which only have been paid up to the present time. There are claims either now due, or shortly to fall due, for which the faith and credit of the State are pledged.

—Lieut.-Col. Ed. McGarry, a native of New York, cut his throat in California a short time since, while afflicted with delirium tremens.

—In West Virginia, recently, a man murdered three persons, and attended the funeral of two of them as pall-bearer before his crime was discovered.

—Andrew Rasch, sentenced to be hanged at St. Peters, Minn., on the 17th, was respited by the Governor, for four weeks.

—A car laden with cotton caught fire on Thursday between Madison station and Huntsville and some dozen bales burned up.

—Speaking of slaughterhouses in New Orleans, the Bee of the 20th says: As we now stand, there are something like a hundred small establishments where animals are slaughtered, and the offal, to the amount of 10,000 pounds per day, and possibly $600 or $800 in value, is thrown wastefully in the Mississippi. The expense, which, by the way, must be shared among the consumers, is probably $300 to $500 per day more than it would be under a legalized centralization of the system.

—On the 19th the Comptroller and Finance Committee of New Orleans committed to the flames $845,183 50 in city bills, $18,685 50 being mutilated notes of the smaller dimensions and cut five.

—Some burglars entered the residence of Hon. Pierre Soule on Tuesday night last, and while rummaging about, awakened an old servant, who frightened them off with a revolver, but was a bad marksman. Mr. Soule, in whose bedroom the thieves were, slept throughout the whole affair, until aroused by the shots fired by Willis.

—The Louisville Journal says: "Gen. Grant, before the war, was a dealer in hides and tanbarks. Now, he is a dealer in politics—and double-dealer at that. And he has had his own hide tanned."

—The Troy, N. Y., Press of the 18th says: The unenviable position in which Gen. Grant has involved himself in his controversy with the President, has dampened the zeal of his most enthusiastic friends in this locality.

—Texas and Kansas are getting up a large mutual traffic which will greatly benefit both. Forty thousand head of Texas cattle were slaughtered in Leavenworth alone last year, and the merchants of that city made sales to Texas dealers exceeding half a million dollars.

—The Cincinnati Commercial says: "The Southern Confederacy, its dingy garments rolled in blood, would have an awful resurrection. It would be supported by British gold and animated with the wildest hatreds and thirst for vengeance." Such speculations are useless. There will be no such war.

—Jesse Bochor was fatally shot by an elder brother in Wooster, Ohio, a few days ago. The casualty was caused by carelessly handling a pistol.

—The woolen mill of Jos. B. Scathard, at Jonestown, Penn., was burned on the 21st with its contents. Loss $40,000, partially insured.

—Mr. Daniel Swigert has sold his celebrated racehorse Lancaster, by Lexington, to a gentleman of New York, for $5000. Lancaster is one of the most promising horses on the American turf, and was estimated by the late Mr. R. A. Alexander as equal to any horse ever raised by him.

—The death of Capt. Jonathan Bruce occurred at his residence, in Hudson, Mass., on the 15th inst., at the age of seventy-seven. He was for twenty-two years keeper of the Boston Light, and afterwards for many years in the capacity of pilot served the merchants and underwriters faithfully.

—The following classes of persons are to be disfranchised by the new Georgia Constitution: First, Those who shall have been convicted of treason, embezzlement of funds, malfeasance in office, crime punishable by law with imprisonment in the penitentiary, or bribery. Second, Those who are idiots or insane.

—Ernest Alexis, son of a military surgeon at Ypres, Belgium, killed himself with chloroform at a hotel in New Orleans, on Saturday night. He had no money with him, and it is supposed this privation led him to suicide.

—It is alleged that the Edwin A. Weed under arrest in New York on a charge of stealing $10,000 worth of bonds from the counter of a bank, is the same individual who, as a pretended clergyman, operated so successfully in Troy and vicinity last Spring in collecting funds for religious purposes, and whose rascality was exposed at the time.

—A man named Kincaid, a horseshoer, is missing from Pittsburg since Saturday evening. He had a small amount of money with him, and, as he was of steady habits, his disappearance causes extreme uneasiness to his family.

—In action brought in the Supreme Court of Cincinnati to recover damages for overholding property, it was held that a plea to the jurisdiction, on the ground that the party had filed a petition in bankruptcy could not be sustained.

—Hon. Joseph Reed Ingersoll, formerly Representative in Congress for many years, and Minister to England under President Fillmore, died at his residence in Philadelphia on Thursday evening, aged seventy-five years. He was one of the leaders of the old Whig party.

—A Washington letter says Hon. David A. Wells is mentioned as a likely person to succeed Mr. Delmaras, Chief of the Statistical Bureau of the Treasury.

STEALING CLOTHES.—A negro called William Johnson was arrested yesterday charged with stealing a quantity of clothing from Frank Hiliyard, on Rayburn avenue, and committed by Justice Black.

STATE PRISONERS.—There are now confined in the county prison, on Adams street, about ninety prisoners, sixty of whom are blacks. This number shows which race commits the most crime.

STEALING PIGS.—Some lovers of the grunting family visited the farm of Col. Jesse Forrest, near Union Cemetery, yesterday morning, and drove off four hogs. Information was given to the police, but no catch has been made as far as heard from.

MORE STEALING.—A negro girl named Eliza Beard was yesterday arrested by the police, on complaint of Mr. Wiggin, charged with stealing a hat and five pair of shoes from her employer. She will probably come before a Justice to-day.

HOUSE ROBBERY.—The house of Mrs. Purcell, 32 Second street, was robbed last night by a sneak thief, who gave his name as Thompson (with a P) and stole everything he could carry off. We hope boarding house keepers will learn to be more careful in future as to the property of their guests.

ROBBING IN CHELSEA.—At an early hour yesterday morning Mr. W. H. Gallor, who resides in Chelsea, had a visit from some fowl thieves, who took all his poultry. He shot at the vagabonds twice and reeled them over, but unfortunately for the ends of justice, both got away.

JOE LOCKE, the never-behind Joe, at his News stand, 22 Jefferson street, has all the latest papers and magazines, monthly, weekly and daily; sensation, humorous and grave; fashionable, artistic, mechanical and political; in fact a sufficient variety of reading matter to suit the most fastidious. Everybody must call and see Joe's smiling face, and at the same time invest in literature.

HEISKELL'S DIGEST.—Part Four of a Digest of the Reported Decisions of the State of Tennessee, by J. B. Heiskell, Esq., has been laid on our table by the author. This part closes volume I, and is accompanied by a table of titles. The volume complete embraces subjects, or legal points, rather, from "Abandonment" to "Chancery Practice." The number before us runs from "Chancery Evidence" to "Chancery Practice." Mr. Heiskell's office is No. 20 Madison street, where the number or volume may be procured.

RITE OF CONFIRMATION.

Interesting Ceremonies—Eloquent Address by the Rt. Rev. Bishop Wilmer, of Louisiana.

That most estimable and popular divine, the Rt. Rev. Bishop Wilmer, of Louisiana, officiated in three of the Episcopal churches of this city, on Sunday last, and administered the Holy Apostolic Rite of Confirmation to a very large number of persons. His Episcopal bearing, polite diction and fervid sentiments, produced a marked effect upon the large and listful audience that hung upon his words. He is, indeed, what may be styled "a live Bishop," without narrowness, without bigotry, but overflowing with catholicity and charity to all—earnest and eloquent in speech—natural and attractive in manner—well posted in the questions of the hour—regardful of the interests of his church, yet full of the milk of kindness to others, and, we think, his warm and breathing words will long be remembered by the thrilled and delighted multitudes who were so fortunate as to get seats and stand points within hearing of his voice. Having failed to obtain an eligible position in St. Lazarus and Grace churches, we can only note his address at Calvary, which we report almost et verbum; as it has connections with interesting and momentous events of the hour. Bishop Wilmer said:

He appeared there by request, and in the place of the Bishop of Tennessee, and instead of a formal sermon, would speak of matters to which the Bishop himself would be pleased to call their attention if he were present.

During his absence from the city, the melancholy announcement was received of the death of Rt. Rev. John Henry Hopkins, the revered and beloved patriarch of this church. That our clergy and people did not assemble to express their sense of this bereavement, is an affecting proof of the gloom and depression of the public mind already exhausted by affliction. A great life has thus closed! An illustrious character has passed into the custody of history. Nature had endowed him with rare gifts, and "set a crown of pure gold upon his head." His mental endowments were as solid as they were varied and beautiful. A scholar of wonderful erudition, he did not disdain the graceful accomplishments which enrich life, and lend their aid to the full development of the faculties. A champion in Polemical theology, he always preserved his equanimity; his ponderous arm would now and then descend with force, but it borrowed no aid from the weapons of malice or resentment. His published writings are among the best treasures of the American Church. He left to others the propagation of the Gospel by Missionary agencies; his vocation was to defend it, and at every point to strengthen the Church against the contagion of the surrounding evils. His powers were often employed in resisting popular errors and illusions. Calm in the midst of excitement, intrepid when other men's hearts were failing them for fear, he thought and spoke like one who lived in the "ages of faith."

I can remember, when the first wave of a creedless philanthropy broke upon the land, and the use of intoxicating drinks was to be suppressed by a human organization, which disowned the Gospel as the reforming power of the world, how his watchful eye detected the lurking error, and his bold voice was raised amidst a storm of obloquy and reproach to expose the danger. An example of purest sobriety and virtue, he began the early to defend the dignity of the Gospel, and was with the Church against the danger of submission to popular clamor, and the allurements of a sinful and vicious popularity. His sagacity and wisdom were confirmed by the result. He buried in oblivion, from its association with events which cannot too soon be forgotten. But it is only just to his memory to make this assertion, that if the time shall come, when the christianity of this land shall be unchristianized beneath the wasting spell of popular opinion: if it should be bribed to accept the world as its ally and champion, which Christ has made its enemy; the example of Bishop Hopkins will remain, to rebuke the act of pusillanimity, and to uphold the purity and dignity of the Church of Christ. Few will dispute his claim, above all others in the American Church, to be called the Defender of the primitive faith. Add to this, his indefatigable labors in the active sphere of his office, his rare disinterestedness in devoting his private fortune to the public good, his universal urbanity and kindness, and you will acknowledge that he did not degrade the graceful accomplishments which enrich life, and lend their aid to the full development of its

FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL.

OFFICE OF THE DAILY APPEAL,
MEMPHIS, February 24, 1868.

There is less demand for currency to-day, owing to the stagnation prevailing in the cotton market, and as a consequence, our banks report an easy money market. Sight bills on New York were less difficult to negotiate than usual, during the day, while the buying rates are firm at ¼ to ½ discount on all points East. There was more doing in New Orleans bills than usual. One discount house took $38 000 sight at a discount of $2 per $1000. Selling at par on the East, and ¼ premium on New Orleans.

Gold has been irregular, owing to the state of affairs at Washington. It opened to-day in New York at 143¾, and closed at 142¾. We could learn of no sales in this market, though dealers were anxious to purchase, and in order to do so, offered about New York quotations. There is an outside speculative demand sufficient to absorb many times the offerings in this market.

City Scrips dull. There is no demand except for small warrants. Dealers buy at 40c and sell at 45c. A round lot would not bring over 38c if a purchaser could be found at any price. We think the city would advance its own interests by withdrawing several thousand dollars in large warrants, and issuing small ones running from $10 to $50 therefor.

There is no demand for County Scrip. We quote them dull and nominal. Selling at 50 to 55c. No buying rates.

Police Warrants are in good demand at 80 to 83c buying. Selling at 88 to 90c.

Depositors in the Farmers' and Citizens' National bank of Williamsburg were paid 55c on the dollar.

The Bank Commissioners closed the First National bank of Bethel, Connecticut, Thursday. The cashier is under arrest. A very large amount of certificates have been issued.

The First National bank of Keokuk suspended on the 21st inst.

Maj. Donelson and Mayor Meriwether, agents of the Levee Board of the State of Mississippi, are in Washington. They are seeking appropriations for the levees of the Yazoo Basin, extending on the east side of the Mississippi river, from Memphis to Vicksburg. An advisory meeting was held at the rooms of Senator Fowler, at which most of the Tennessee delegation were present, and many members of Congress from sections not immediately interested in the work. The necessity of Congressional assistance seems to be conceded. Otherwise these vast tracts of productive lands will be flooded. Maj. Donelson and Mr. Meriwether are hopeful of securing the appropriations which they have been directed by the Mississippi Levee Board to ask.

The Liverpool cotton market was dull at the opening to-day; Uplands, 9¼d; Orleans, 10d. At 1 p.m. the market was heavy, and 2 pts. Uplands were 9¼d; Orleans, 9¾d. Sales 8000 bales. Uplands to arrive, 9¼d. The New York market opened dull and nominal; Low Middlings, 22c; Middlings, 23½c; Good Middlings, 24½ to 25c; Orleans, 24½ to 24¾c. At 11 a.m. there was a decline of ¼c on Middlings, and ½ to ¼c on Orleans. At 1 p.m. transactions were small and prices again lower; Middlings, 22½c; Orleans, 23½c. At the close the demand was fair and market weak, but prices unchanged. Sales for the day, 3000 bales; week's receipts, 24,000 bales; sales, 72,000 bales; exports, 10,670 bales; stock, 50,000 bales. Our market was quiet from the opening to the close, and prices entirely nominal, it being possibly the dullest day of the season at the staple. Buyers would have taken a few small tables at 21 to 21½c, but the sellers were not disposed to make such concessions. There is on overestimate of the stock on hand in the opinion of many of our prominent cotton men who think that the total amount sold and unsold will not foot up more than 12,000 to 16,000 bales by actual count. The same complaint was made, however, some weeks ago, and upon counting it was found that the statement of the Chamber of Commerce was correct.

The week opens upon a bare market, with prices firm and hard to quote. We can give no accurate idea of the wholesale market for meats as we know of no large lots on hand, though heavy stocks are on the way. Mess Pork by the dray load is held at $26 to $26 50, while some holders ask $27 to $27 50 by the single barrel. Bacon and Bulk Meats are out of market, or so near it that no order of any consequence could be filled. Prices range all the way from 12 to 16c in a small way. Lard is very firm. Tierces are held at 15 to 15½c; kegs, 16 to 17c. Meal is dull at $4 25 to $4 40 on the landing, and $4 50 to $4 75 from store. Corn is light supply. A few lots came on the Marblehead, and Capt. Patrick which sold at 87½ to 90c. Oats are in better supply; White, 80 to 85c; Black, 90c to $1. Hay, $18 to $20. Bran, $40 per ton. Chickens, $4 50 to $5 per dozen. Eggs, 25 to 28c per dozen. Turkeys, $12 to $15. India bagging, 22 to 24c; machine, 23 to 25c; hand, nominal. Choice Western butter, 38 to 40c; good, 30 to 35c. Western Reserve cheese, 15½ to 16c; English dairy, 17 to 18c; factory, 16½ to 17c. Beeswax, 21 to 26c; Java, 40 to 42c. Mackerel, No. 1 kits, $2 35 to 2 50; No. 2, $2 25 to 2 40; No. 3, $2 10 to 2 25. Louisiana molasses, 80c to $1 in barrels. Orleans sugar firm. Neshannocks, $14; Peach Blows, $4 50; Pink Eyes, $5 50 to $5 50; London Lady's, $6 to $6 50, per barrel. Kanawha salt, $3 25 to 3 50 per barrel; sack, $2 75 to 3. Tar, per dozen kegs, $5 to 7 50. Sugars, crushed and powdered, 19 to 20c. Coffee, 17 to 18c; brown, 14 to 17c. Tobacco, fancy work natural leaf, $1 to $1 25; bright pounds fancy, $1 to $1 25; medium, 80c to $1; common, 60 to 75c; smoking, fine and fancy, $1 to $1 25; common, 85 to 75c. Whisky is firm at $1 60 to $2 25 for common.

The Stock market is dull, with only a moderate supply. Choice Western Beeves, 5 to 6c; Inferior, 3 to 4c; Milch Cows, $25 to $60. Sheep, per head, $3 to $5. Hogs are scarce; we quote them 10½ gross; dressed, 13 to 14c.

N. B.—It must be understood that our quotations represent prices in round lots except when otherwise stated. From small buyers an advance of about 5 per cent is required.

To CONSUMPTIVES.

It is authentically stated that one-fifth of the inhabitants of this country and Europe die of Consumption. No disease has been more thoroughly studied, and it matters not understood, as there is no disease upon which exists a greater diversity of opinion, and no disease which has more completely baffled all medical skill and remedial agencies.

Some of the prominent symptoms are Cough, Expectoration, Shortness of Breath, Irritation about the Lungs and Chest, darting Pains in the Sides and Back, Emaciation, and general negative condition of the whole system.

Persons suffering with this dread disease, or any of its concomitants, should lose no time in possessing themselves of the proper Remedy in order that its ravages may be stayed, and be restored to health. The

Rev. A. E. Wilson's

Prepared Prescription for the Cure of Consumption, Asthma, Bronchitis, COUGHS, COLDS.

And all Throat and Lung Affections,

By the use of which he was restored to health in a few weeks, after having suffered several years with a severe lung affection and that dread disease, Consumption, and has been in use over ten years with the most marked success.

This remedy is prepared from the original Recipe, chemically pure, by the Rev. EDWARD A. WILSON, 16 South Second street, Williamsburgh, Kings county, New York.

A pamphlet containing the original prescription with full and explicit directions for preparation and use, together with a short history of his case, with symptoms, experience and cure, can be obtained, free of charge of Mr. Wilson, as above, or by calling on or addressing

SUBURBAN LAND
FOR SALE AND LEASE.

Notice

BEING DESIROUS OF DISPOSING OF MY Land, situated about three miles east of the city, in small tracts to suit purchasers, I offer it in lots of about five acres or more, upon the following

EASY TERMS:

One-tenth payable on the 1st of January, 1869, and the balance in nine equal annual instalments, bearing six per cent. interest, the purchaser to construct, within a fixed time, improvements of a stipulated value;

Or, one-tenth cash, and the balance in ten equal annual payments, bearing interest, the purchaser's title to be insured at my expense to the amount of the principal of the debt, and in case of his death before the full settlement of the debt, the remainder of it to be cancelled, and a fee simple deed to be made to his heirs;

Or, I will give a perpetual lease, the lessee paying an annual rent at the rate of six per cent. on an agreed valuation, and having the privilege of buying the land at any time, by paying the amount of the valuation, but binding himself to construct thereon improvements of a stipulated value.

I will also lease for a term of five or ten years, to applicants able to give satisfactory references for good character, a certain quantity of the same tract of land, for enclosing which the tenant has the necessary fencing.

MY RESIDENCE LOT on the handsomest and most eligibly situated of any in the vicinity of Memphis, is also for sale cheap, for cash, or on the usual time.

KAVANAGH & DECKER'S
BILLIARD TABLES

THE most reliable Cushion used on Billiard Tables is the

Cat-Gut Cushion,

Manufactured by KAVANAUGH & DECKER, and patented December 16, 1866. (See Scientific American, Vol. 16, No. 11.)

It is the only Cushion that possesses all the qualities essential to a Perfect Cushion. It is the most elastic and most durable Cushion ever offered to the billiard-playing public, as is abundantly proven by the great demand for it since its introduction. The peculiarity which distinguishes the Cat-Gut Cushion over others is superior to all others, is the tightened cord of cat-gut which overlies the face and edge of the rubber, and which holds it firmly to the Cushion, which prevents the ball from bedding into the rubber and jumping from the tables. The addition of the cat-gut does not add much to the elasticity of the Cushion.

The Cat-Gut Cushion has already been applied to over 1000 tables, which are in constant use. It can be applied to tables of any make, for $75 per set.

Kavanagh & Decker's Factory, at the corner of Centre and Canal streets, 50 lengths of the Cushion, which prevents the ball from bedding into the rubber and jumping from the tables. The addition of the cat-gut does not add much to the elasticity of the Cushion.

The Cat-Gut Cushion has already been applied to over 1000 tables, which are in constant use. It can be applied to tables of any make, for $75 per set.

Kavanagh & Decker's Factory, at the corner of Centre and Canal streets, 50 feet long, is the most complete of its kind in the world. The machinery is of the most improved character, the utmost delicacy and finish characterize the finished tables, the material used the best that can be purchased, and the workmen thoroughly skilled.

Billiard Cloth, Balls, Cues and Trimmings, all of the best make, constantly on hand.

Our Latest Improved
NEW SCALE PIANO-FORTE.
GROVESTEEN & CO.,
499 Broadway, N. Y.,

THESE instruments, after the most flattering testimonials from the first Pianists in the country, who, at our solicitation, have tested them in the severest manner possible, have been pronounced THE FINEST SQUARE PIANO-FORTE MADE IN THE WORLD.

It has always been our policy, during the thirty-six years that we have manufactured Pianos, twelve thousand of which are now in use in the United States and Europe, to give the finest instrument at the lowest cost. Our superior facilities enable us to offer, at the present time, to three hundred dollars less than any other First-Class House.

The tone of these instruments are remarkable for their peculiar Sweetness and Great Brilliancy, never losing their quality when forced to their utmost capacity. The lower register is full, round and musical, and does not destroy the middle and upper registers by mingling with them in disagreeable confusion, the refined beauty of tone being equally delightful to the unpracticed and to the most cultivated ear.

They are an entirely new style of Piano, finished in the most superb manner, with four full round corners front and back, heavily carved and the panels of rose wood base richly moulded, and each instrument is fully warranted for five years.

NOW READY.

THE MEMPHIS APPEAL

FOR 1868.

ALBERT PIKE
EDITOR.

JNO. AINSLIE,
Cashier and Business Manager.

THE MEMPHIS APPEAL, NOW IN ITS Twenty-Ninth Year, is offered to the reading public of Tennessee, Mississippi, Arkansas and Alabama, it is believed, with superior inducements to any that have ever been presented to its numerous and rapidly increasing patrons. The stagnation in financial movements, the almost total cessation of trade, the paralysis in agricultural operations and the anomalous condition of political affairs, instead of counselling to inaction and discouraging enterprise and energy, should arouse our people to redouble their exertions, to extend their enterprise, and to rely with greater confidence and higher resolve upon their own indomitable and unquenchable courage and purpose. If there ever was a time when the people should be it is in such an emergency as the present. The temptation is strong to despair, and to surrender to the influence of fear and an almost overwhelming oppression. If we listen to the voice of the Siren and give up to despair, we are lost—irrecoverably lost. It behooves one and all to be up and doing, "with a heart for every fate, still achieving, still pursuing," until the book of our destiny shall be closed. We should hear of no compromise to make with the opposing genius of decay and destruction, which is seeking to drag us down. We should meet the enemy at every stage and wage an aggressive warfare upon him, until we expel him from the land. Poverty comes upon our beloved land and upon our patriotic people "like an armed man." Like "an armed man" we must assail him—with the same will, determination and courage with which he marches upon our homes and hearthstones. In such an emergency,

THE NEWSPAPER

Is the great and potent weapon with which we must carry on the campaign. We might as well at once surrender to the foe as to abandon this agency, which is, in fact, the artillery arm, both for defense and attack, in such a warfare. This great moral and political agent can only be rendered efficient and successful with the countenance, support and material assistance of the people. Never was there so cheap an aid employed to defend the right and to crush the oppressor. A people who are not willing to sustain an auxiliary which may be so potently used to defend their rights, and which can be employed at so inconsiderable an expense, are in the last stage of decrepitude and decline. And so an individual, who may be

FOUND TO DECRY THE PRESS,

Which in all free governments is known to be the most powerful lever, in the service of good government, must be either too imbecile for a freeman or too corrupt to receive the confidence and respect of his countrymen. It therefore happens that the people who sustain the Press with the greatest liberality and who rely upon its free utterance, with the highest confidence in its power to elicit the truth and defend the right, are always the freest and most independent people.

MEMPHIS APPEAL.

For the Memphis Appeal.]
LOLLIE.

When first we met, ah me! It seemed
The world had grown so bright,
That all of love and truth I had dreamed
Came gloriously to light;
I thought kind Heaven an Angel sent
To dazzle earthly eyes,
For in her soul all beauty's blent
That speaks of paradise.

Her cheek with tints of damask glows
Through alabaster's line—
She's beautiful as is the rose,
All sparkling o'er with dew;
She is as pure as snowy flakes
Ere they have touched the sod,
Or as the light which softly breaks
In halos bright from God.

I've felt the witchery of her smile,
The music of her voice,
And memory laugh, that all the while
Made my sad heart rejoice.
As turns the needle to the pole,
My thoughts to her will start,
For she's the love-light of the soul,
And life-pulse of the heart.

All holiness of Heavenly birth
Which forms the Christian's goal,
And love-illumed of all its earth,
Are shrined in Lollie's soul.
The feelings that woke in my breast
The first time we two met,
Gave life and hope such wondering zest
I never can forget.

Yet, she's to me like some fair star
Which does in glory shine,
Too beautiful, too high and far
To blend its course with mine.
It hemmed with all in her light
That gleams in sea-blue skies,
And deem she is the beacon bright
That beams from Paradise.

Since first we met, fair Lollie seems
More lovely as the real,
Than what my fancy in my dreams
Had pictured my ideal.
Her queenly form, her angel face,
Her look and winning way,
Have in my heart a resting place
That long as life will stay.

J. AUGUSTINE SIGNAIGO.
MEMPHIS, February 23, 1868.

BY TELEGRAPH.

Noon Dispatches.

WASHINGTON, February 24.—It is stated that Attorney-General Stanbery, Judge Black and Charles O'Connor will defend the President before the Senate.

Maj. Gen. George H. Thomas declines the proffered brevets of Lieutenant General and General of the Army.

NEW YORK, February 24.—The Herald's Washington correspondent states that appearances last night indicate that the War Department trouble will resolve itself finally into a legal struggle, wherein the most belligerent parties will be the lawyers, and a final judgment will be rendered by a court instead of by a sanguinary conflict. Gen. Thomas stated to the Herald's correspondent, last night, at the conclusion of the interview relative to his intentions to-day, as follows: "I shall go down to the Department, at the usual hour, as Secretary of War ad interim, to all intents and purposes, without any reservation or doubt that my powers as such are perfectly legitimate, as were those of Gen. Grant. I shall go about the business of the Department, and issue orders in the name of the President, and give instructions to subordinates and officials, and direct the general work of the Department. Of course, it will be very unpleasant for me to find officers there who may be prepared to disregard my orders. It may, perhaps, happen to be some personal friends of my own, but I have no other resource than to use the power conferred upon me, and order them under arrest, if they refuse to obey the legitimate authority."

"But what about the great Mogul himself; is Stanton to be left securely alone? That's the question. He has already refused to vacate, and I suppose he will persist in doing so."

"On my own option I shall decline to use any force, but if the President instructs me to employ forcible persuasion I must be consistent to do so. However, I shall await the future development of this disagreeable business before saying what I shall do."

In an interview between Secretary Stanton and the same correspondent, the former stated that he had not issued an order to prevent Gen. Thomas from entering the War Department—that he considered that it was impossible to say what action he would take if Thomas insisted on assuming the duties of the War Department. His action will depend altogether on the movement of General Thomas.

The same correspondent is informed that numerous dispatches have been received from the Grand Army of the Republic, which report that a secret military organization, with posts, is being established in all parts of the country, to enforce the action of Congress. The general tenor of the dispatches is that members of the Grand Army of the Republic will not see Congress overthrown; and if violence is used in ejecting Mr. Stanton, 100,000 men are ready to come to Washington and put him back. The order is reported as in a great state of excitement, and is unanimously resolved to take sides with the policy of Congress, and defend it in all its measures, if affairs are brought to such an extremity. On Saturday the message which went to the Senate after its adjournment, containing the name of Mr. Ewing for confirmation as Secretary of War, was too late for action that day. It was withdrawn, and will be again sent in on Monday. Mr. Ewing has notified the President that he will not accept the appointment.

An army officer on duty at the War Department intimated, yesterday, that orders from any other person than Secretary Stanton would be disregarded by army officers.

The militia of Maryland have proffered their services to a prominent military supporter of the President, so it is reported, and this report is given a color of truth from the presence of Gov. Swann, of Maryland, who has had an interview with the President.

Gen. Lew. Wallace has arrived from the West, in obedience to the call of the Commander of the Grand Army of the Republic, and is in close consultation with Gen. Logan.

Gen. Thomas will apply this morning for a writ of quo warranto. Attorney-General Stanbery states that the whole affair will be settled without force, but a great deal rests with the prudence of those at the head of affairs.
